Read the passage and choose the best answer for each question. Son Doong Cave, a three-million-year-old cave in central Vietnam, is located in the heart of the UNESCO-listed Phong Nha-Ke Bang National Park in Vietnam's Quang Binh province. It was first discovered in 1990 by Ho Khanh, a local farmer who was seeking shelter from a passing storm in the jungle. He noticed clouds and the sound of an underground river gushing from a large hole in the limestone, and reported his findings to the British Caving Research Association (BCRA), who were stationed in Phong Nha at the time. Unfortunately, Ho Khanh lost his bearings during his return, and the exact location of the cave remained lost for 18 years. In 2008 while hunting for food he stumbled across the entrance again, and returned the following year with Howard and Deb Limbert from the BCRA. They began the exploration of the cave, and in 2010 determined it to be the largest ever discovered in terms of the size of its cross-section. Stretching more than five kilometers long and reaching heights of 200 meters and 150m wide, Son Doong Cave is large enough to house an entire New York City block. With a total measured volume of 38.5 million cubic meters, this comfortably surpasses Deer Cave in Malaysia, which was considered to be the previous record holder. In 2013, it was opened to the public for the first time. Only 10 customers per departure are permitted. Tours run once per week between February to August per year. 27) How was Son Doong Cave first discovered? A. Ho Khanh found out it accidentally when he was seeking shelter from a passing storm in the jungle in 1990. B. In 2008 while hunting for food, Ho Khanh stumbled across the entrance of the Cave. C. Ho Khanh reported his findings to the British Caving Research Association and they discovered it. D. Howard and Deb Limbert from the BCRA discovered it in 2008. 28) When was it first opened to the public? A. In 1990 B. In 2009 C. In 2010 D. In 2013 29) How large is Son Doong Cave? A. 5km B. 200 meters C. 150 meters D. 38.5 million cubic meters 30) What used to be considered the largest natural cave of the world? A. Deer Cave B. Son Doong Cave C. New York City block D.
